RELIEF GIVEN BY CONGRESS

MONEY TO RUN THE GOVERNMENT UNTIL AUGUST 15 IS APPROVED.

PLEA MADE FOR PENSIONS

Immediate Distribution of $30,000,000 for Old Soldiers Is Asked.

By The Associated Press.
Washington, Aug. 1.—Temporary relief for the bankruptcy in which the government found itself today was granted by congress through passage of an emergency appropriation resolution, which was sent to the president late today. It carries forward the appropriations as they existed in June and July for another "half month." By Aug. 15 it is expected the annual appropriation bills will have been passed.

An attack was made on the emergency measure in the senate on the ground that it provided no fund to meet the increase in pensions authorized by the law recently passed. The emergency appropriation is for "emergency expenses of the government" and "for the payment of pensions." In neither instance, however, does it provide for anything further than the estimates as they existed in June.

Plea for Pension Money.
Senator Smith of Michigan charged congress was "keeping the old soldiers out of their pay." He was supported by Senator McCumber, chairman of the senate pensions committee, who said claims amounting to $30,000,000 would be ready for payment by the end of this week, for which there were no funds.

Just before adjournment Senator McCumber presented a resolution to meet the pensions emergency, which will be called up for action tomorrow. It authorizes the appropriation of $30,000,000, or as much of that sum as may be necessary, to meet pensions claims that may "be due and payable on or before Aug. 4."

Who's Responsible?
Charges were made by members of each party that the other was responsible for delaying appropriation bills. Senator Warren said the democrats of the house had failed to act on many of the bills. Senator Stone charged that the republicans, on the other hand, were holding up the annual pension appropriation bill.

Practically all of the big appropriation bills are pending and all work of development and extension in the departments has been stopped.

Roosevelt to Set Fourth Attitude Regarding Negro

By The Associated Press.
Oyster Bay, Aug. 1.—The attitude of the national progressive party toward the negro—a knotty problem—is taken up at length in a careful statement which Col. Roosevelt completed today and which he will make public Saturday.

Neither of the old parties, Col. Roosevelt asserted, had met the negro question fairly and honestly. The democratic party, he said, was openly against the negro, and the republican party had placed the black man in the south on an artificial basis, so far as his relations with the party were concerned. The colonel declined to discuss the policy which he has proposed in his statement, but he said he was determined to do all in his power to prevent a repetition of conditions which he said existed in the south in the republican party.

McCLAIN HAS WALKOVER IN TENNESSEE PRIMARY

By The Associated Press.
Nashville, Aug. 1.—Benton McClain was an easy winner today in the democratic primary to select a candidate for governor. It was estimated at midnight that he has carried at least twenty-five counties and will poll about half of a total vote of probably $5,000. The vote was tight all over the state.

Judge Felix W. Moore, democrat, was an easy winner over John H. N. Cate, republican, in the race for judge of the court of civil appeals. Representative F. J. Garrett of the Ninth congressional district had no trouble in outdistancing Judge J. D. Caldwell for the democratic congressional nomination in the district. Judge A. S. Buchanan, candidate for a seat on the supreme court bench, was elected without opposition.

John Elias to Take $2,100 Judgment Paid by Street Car Company and Live in Beirut. Left Poor, Goes Back Wealthy.

Quitting his job as city street cleaner, John Elias, a Syrian, will take the $2,100 he has just received from the street car company and live in comfort the rest of his life. He is going to take his family back to the old country, from whence he migrated as poor as dirt several years ago, and, aided by his money, take front rank among his own people.

The Elias family will probably sail in a few days for Beirut, the famous Asia Minor city. They will go to New York by boat from Galveston, and will then take a North German Lloyd steamer for the old country. Elias visited the different ticket offices yesterday, getting quotations on the third-class fare.

Elias lost his 12-year-old boy through a street car accident July 14, and the company paid him $2,100.

"Waco is all right, but I want to get back among my own people," Elias said. "After I leave, I don't ever expect to return. I was a mighty poor man when I came over here from the old country."

TEDDY'S MEN NOT OUTSED

KANSAS TO VOTE ON EIGHT CONTESTED CANDIDATES FOR ELECTORS.

PARTIAL TAFT VICTORY

Final Settlement Pends Action of Full Bench of United States Supreme Court.

By The Associated Press.
New York, Aug. 1.—Action of the Kansas state courts in refusing to order the names of Roosevelt candidates for presidential electors stricken from the primary ballot was partly reversed tonight by Justices Vandeventer and Pitney of the United States supreme court. While these judges granted the application of the Taft men for a writ of error directed to the Kansas supreme court, their decision does not constitute a final victory for the Taft organization. Under its terms the right of the Roosevelt candidates to have places on the primary ticket will be decided by the full bench of the supreme court when that tribunal holds its next regular session in October. Meanwhile the names of the Roosevelt men will appear on the ballots at the Kansas primary next Tuesday.

The effect of the decision is to leave the whole Kansas controversy suspended until October, when it is expected the highest court will settle it before the national election. Today's proceedings before Justices Vandeventer and Pitney assumed national importance in view of the question involved. This went outside state political issues and involved federal and state rights. Speaking broadly, this question was whether the choice of presidential electors was purely a state matter or could be supervised by the federal courts. In other words, whether electors were state officers or federal officers.

The Kansas courts decided they had no jurisdiction in the case, since the dispute was purely a political one, and made no attempt to pass on the merits of the allegations. Neither were these charges considered by the two supreme court justices in their decision today. In making their application for a writ of error, the Taft men declared the federal courts had jurisdiction to prevent the state of Kansas from depriving any of its citizens of the free right to express their choice at the polls. They contended that in the caucus there the eight Roosevelt candidates were chosen the Taft men who had signed the petition lost their right to vote for their choice for president.

While this contention formed the basis of the argument, the success of the eight Roosevelt candidates at the primaries would put the regular republicans, they say, in an embarrassing situation and endanger the chances of their candidates for state offices by dividing the republican votes between the columns headed respectively by the Roosevelt and Taft electors.

It is understood the supreme court will decide the case in time to keep the Roosevelt electors off the ballots in the November election in case the latter are defeated in the litigation. The only possibility that the court will not have to decide the case is that none of the eight candidates is successful in the primaries Aug. 6. There are twenty candidates for electors and ten will be chosen. Twelve are Taft men.

FORMER WACO WOMAN SEES NEGRO KILLER

LEONARD POTTS ASKS MONEY AND FOOD OF MRS. CROW-ELL IN PARIS.

Clarksville, Mob Still Hunting Black. Death at Stake Awaiting Him.

Special to The Morning News.

Paris, Tex., Aug. 1.—Leonard Potts, the negro wanted for two murders, was seen here this morning by Mrs. Crowell, who came here a year ago from Waco. She lived in Dallas before coming here, and Potts worked for her there. Since moving here, Potts was employed a short time as a servant. He asked for food and money today.

The woman notified the officers at once, but the negro has so far eluded arrest. Over two hundred men are looking for him, including many from Clarksville, where the negro killed Sheriff Stephens last Tuesday night.

Mrs. Crowell is the wife of a window decorator of this city. In Waco she conducted a beauty parlor.

Hatless and with two deadly automatic revolvers in his hands, Leonard Potts, slayer of Officer Tedford and Sheriff Stephens, lurks somewhere, ready to slay the first who jumps him. Death at the stake awaits Potts in Clarksville. At daybreak the tired Clarksville seekers for Potts took up their search again. A posse of 500 armed men started with the first streak of dawn and are scouring the country around Clarksville. Armed men guard the county lines of Tarrant and Delta, and on the Oklahoma side men wait in case Potts crosses the Red river.

The general impression is that the negro is still in Red River county and will be caught. All last night Dallas officers scoured the woods for the slayer.

SERIOUS CLASH NEAR AT HAND

REBELS ARE MORE FORMIDABLE THAN SUPPOSED, BUT MADERO IS CONFIDENT.

OROZCO GETTING TIRED?

Despite Talk of Harmony, Insurrectos Are Concentrating on West Coast.

By The Associated Press.

Washington August 1.—That a serious and perhaps critical conflict between the government and the rebel forces in Sonora, which has been expected for some time may occur soon, is the tenor of the day's reports to Washington from the Mexican border. The rebel forces in Casas Grandes are much more formidable than were supposed, numbering 1500 men and six pieces of artillery, under General Salazar, and their resources have been greatly strengthened by ammunition, and supplies seized from the American Mormon colonists.

Rebel Generals Rojas and Campa have mysteriously disappeared in the Sierra Madre, southwest of Madera, on what is known as the Dolores trail. It is not known whether they have permanently separated themselves from Orozco's command just at a time when Gen. Salazar, his chief lieutenant, must be at the brunt of the attack of the government army, or whether they are engaged in an important strategic movement. They may be trying to cut the line of communication of federal troops, 1800 strong under Gen. Blanco. The federals have two guns near Ojitos, 50 miles from Casas Grandes. Skirmishes of the two forces already are in touch.

Madero is reported still garrisoned by a small rebel force, but the federals from Chihuahua are reported to be advancing upon the town.

The state department is receiving many appeals from persons and corporations owning property in Mexico to extend protection to them. Department officials feel that everything is being done possible short of actual intervention.

IGNORE INTERVENTION TALK.

By The Associated Press.

Mexico City, Aug. 1.—Confidence in the ability of General Huerta to provide protection for the Mormons in the Casas Grandes district and later to whip the rebels into submission was expressed at the president's office today. That the rebels will do anything to force the United States to intervene is not believed either by government officials or by the public. Government sympathizers as well as friends of Gen. Orozco consider it probable that in the case of American invasion the rebel leaders would immediately join the government in its defense.

Huerta should have his campaign well under way by the end of the week. He will arrive at Chihuahua tomorrow and from there will direct the two columns he is sending towards Casas Grandes to co-operate with that being moved eastward from Sonora under Gen. Sanjines.

Orozco Wants Peace.

A report that is unconfirmed, but from a source usually reliable, is that Gen. Orozco again has made overtures of peace. The receipt of this latest offer is said to have been the reason for a brief delay in the departure of Gen. Huerta. Huerta had left the capital and was at Tacubaya, a suburb, when he was summoned by the president. Several hours later he rejoined his staff and continued northward. Some weeks ago Orozco is said to have asked for amnesty, including the restoration of all his rights of citizenship, as the price of peace, and was refused, according to the story, upon the advice of Gen. Huerta. It is presumed that his last reported request was similar.

Rebels Occupying West Coast.

That the rebels are carrying out their plan of locating the greater part of their army in states along the west coast is indicated in a special to El Imparcial, from Mazatlan, Sinaloa. According to this correspondent, Gen. Benjamine Arguendo, who had been operating in the states of Durango and Coahuila, not far from Torreón, captured Guadalupe y Calvo, a town of some importance about ten miles from the Sinaloa border and near the southern boundary of Chihuahua. He was opposed by Col. Ramon Ibarra, commanding rurales who lost six killed, thirty horses and three thousand rounds of ammunition. The movement of Arguendo to the west leaves only Gen. Murillo with less than a thousand men in the Coahuila-Durango region.

Not Americans? Great Relief.

No official reports have been received by the government regarding the hanging of two men, reported to be Americans, in Sonora, but relief was expressed at the president's office when it was found by the Associated Press that the individuals probably were not Americans. The authorities at Cananea were instructed, however, to continue a rigid investigation.

Police Elated Over Arrest.

The news that at least one of the fugitives had been trapped was received with great elation at police headquarters because of the criticism that has been directed toward that department for its failure to arrest fugitives charged with the actual killing. With the arrest of Lewis, the police now have in custody 2 of the 4 alleged assassins, the other being "Dago Frank," who is now charged with instigating the murder.

New York, Aug. 1.—"Whitey" Lewis, one of the four gunmen wanted by the police as the actual murderers of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, was arrested in the Catskill mountains this afternoon and was late tonight being taken to Kingston, New York, to be lodged in the county jail. This was announced at police headquarters by Inspector Hughes, who said three of his detectives had found Lewis at Fleischmanns, New York, a summer resort. After searching the region for nearly two weeks the detectives found Lewis working on a farm, Inspector Hughes said, and arrested him just as he was to board a train at Fleischmanns to make his escape. The prisoner will be brought to New York on an early train tomorrow.

It was reported at police headquarters that "Lefty" Louie and "Gyp the Blood," two of the alleged murderers still at large, had been traced to the same vicinity and their arrest would come soon.

They Are Expected to Contribute $1 Apiece—Estimated 150,000 Will "Dig Up."

By The Associated Press.

Seagirt, N. J., Aug. 1.—Governor Wilson made clear tonight his intention to take no part in factional quarrels and to keep hands off in any disagreements any states may have among themselves. He was asked particularly about the situation in New York, and said his answer would apply not only there but to all other localities.

"I do not intend to interfere in any state where state fights are concerned," he said. "That is the program, not only in New York, but all along the line. It is the only proper thing for me to do."

The governor made his announcement after Senator O'Gorman had called on him. Senator O'Gorman was sure of New York for the democratic ticket. The third party ticket, he added, had made the result doubly certain.

The vice-chairman, treasurer and finance committee, and chairman of the campaign fund, Senator O'Gorman said, had been decided upon subject to ratification by the governor and would be announced, he thought, within a few days. Governor Wilson said tonight the names had not yet been placed before him for approval.

The potential status of the school teachers of the nation in a national campaign was the predominating theme of discussion among the governor's unofficial visitors today. During the forenoon, W. H. Sanford of Montgomery, Alabama, laid before the governor, a plan for organizing school teachers into clubs to work for the democratic ticket. In the afternoon a delegation of about 150 members of the Wilson and Marshall democratic

SAYS HUSBAND SHOT HIMSELF

CALLS ON GOD TO WITNESS THE TRUTH OF HER SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY.

GRACE LEERS AT HER

He Is Charged With Rewarding Wifely Love and Generosity With the Grosslest Cruelty.

By The Associated Press.

Atlanta, Aug. 1.—With her husband's face leering at her from the pillow of his cot, Mrs. Daisy Opie Grace today related her story to the jury.

"I did not shoot Mr. Grace, and he knows it; as God is my judge, that is the solemn truth," she exclaimed dramatically, and Grace's lips parted in a cynical smile. It was a remarkable story, told in a calm, even voice, without pause, as though it had been well rehearsed. Grace was revealed in black colors, as a creature who had rewarded wifely love and generosity with the grossest cruelty and infidelity.

Mrs. Grace occupied the better part of an hour in its telling, and at its conclusion she left the stand and the defense rested its case.

As she did not make the statement under oath, the prosecution was denied the privilege of cross-examination. The state then put on one or two witnesses in rebuttal, and finally rested.

Grace Shot Self, Declares Wife.

Mrs. Grace declared in her statement that Grace shot himself during a scuffle with her for possession of a pistol with which he was trying to shoot her. She said that he had beaten her and choked her frequently, but that in spite of his mistreatment she had made for him "every sacrifice in this world that a woman could make for a man."

Furnished Him $15,000.

From the time she met until the day of the shooting, she said she had given him $15,000 in cash. "I was as true to him as any wife could be," she said, "and I always humored and petted him like a spoiled child."

Graphic Story of Struggle.

"He sprang out of bed and grabbed my left wrist with his right hand and my right wrist with his left hand," she said, in relating the circumstances of the shooting at the Grace home one morning several weeks ago in a fashionable Atlanta suburb. We struggled, and he backed me over against the bureau and twisted my left hand so hard that I dropped the power of attorney papers he did not want me to destroy, on the floor. Then he let go of that hand and grabbed my throat with his right hand and reached in the bureau drawer and took out his revolver. He was cursing in a low voice and his face was so distorted with rage that I was badly scared. When he made a motion to hit me with the pistol and then tried to shoot me, I threw all my weight and strength against him, grabbed him around the arms and backed him over to the bed. As soon as his legs came in contact with the bed he fell over backward, with me on top of him. I was pushing, pulling and shoving to keep him from shooting me, when suddenly the pistol went off and I screamed and jumped up. He told me to stop screaming; that he was not hurt, and that the thing for me to do was to get out of the house and leave the rest to him. He made me kiss a Bible that I would never tell what had happened, as it would disgrace us both forever.

"Gentlemen, I did not shoot Mr. Grace, and he knows it; as God is my judge, that is the solemn truth."

Says Grace Feared Publicity.
She said she wanted to call on a doctor, but Grace refused to permit it, and insisted she should go. He said, "If this damned thing should get out in a neighborhood like this," all his business and social prospects would be gone forever.

Grace's only comment after his wife had finished her story was, "It sounds silly to me; doesn't it to you?"

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Republican leaders who crowded the east room of the white house today to hear President Taft's speech accepting the party's nomination for the presidency were confident tonight that his address would be the real "keynote" for the campaign and expressed the belief that it was one of the best speeches Mr. Taft has delivered since he entered the white house.

Members of the cabinet, republican leaders, such as Senators Root, Lodge, Smoot, Crane, and Representatives Mann, Payne and others, were confident that the president's address will be used as a campaign document and sent broadcast over the country. It was praised in high terms by scores of the throng which filled the white house to witness the notification.

Taboo Conventional Dress.
The affair was informal. Most of the committee and congressmen appeared in unconventional dress, but former Speaker Cannon, who was told yesterday he could attend in his shirt sleeves and be comfortable, was one of the few to wear a frock coat.

The president apparently enjoyed the occasion immensely. He disappeared into his private apartments for a few minutes, returned wearing a silk house coat instead of his formal dress, and acted as waiter for Mrs. Taft and the other women, and mingled among the guests asked to luncheon in the state dining room. After the last visitor had departed he motored to Chevy Chase to play golf with Gen. Clarence Edwards, Thos. Webb of New Jersey and Chairman Hill of the republican national committee.

With several hundred politicians present, there was plenty of discussion about political subjects.

NICARAGUAN REVOLT GAINING STRENGTH

GOVERNMENT IS SHORT OF WAR
MUNITIONS AND TREACHERY IS PREVALENT.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The revolution in Nicaragua was only scotched, not killed. Notwithstanding advances yesterday to the effect that the rising engineered by Secretary of War Mena was practically over, the state department heard today that the movement is gaining headway.

According to a dispatch from Capt. Terhune of the gunboat Annapolis, the revolt is spreading through the interior of Nicaragua, and the towns of Rivas and Granada have been occupied by the revolutionists. Private advances, however, assert that Rivas has not been occupied.

"There is a lack of munitions of war on the part of the government," Capt. Terhune's report said, "and treachery is existent."

Capt. Terhune said that he would remain with the Annapolis at San Juan del Sur to maintain the cable, after a visit to Corinto to endeavor to learn the situation in Managua. According to his advice, Gen. Chazorra is now in command of the government troops, with Camille Barbarano as secretary of war.

Propose to Let Jurors Read the Works of Darrow

By The Associated Press.

Los Angeles, Aug. 1.—A novel stipulation was made today by opposing counsel in the Darrow bribery trial. It was that if the published works of Clarence S. Darrow be admitted into evidence and copies of his novels, essays and lectures be furnished it was that all of the published works hours of leisure, District Attorney Fredericks later withdrew for the present his consent to the stipulation.

Darrow's writings were injected into the case when Ford produced an address, "Crimes and Criminals," given by the defendant before a body of prisoners in Chicago. Ford read from it:

"There is no such thing as crime, as the word is generally understood. I don't believe there is any sort of distinction to the moral condition of the people in and out of jail. One is just as good as another. The people here can do no more help being here than the outside can avoid being outside. I do not believe that people are in jail because they deserve to be. They are in jail simply because they cannot avoid it on account of circumstances which are entirely beyond their control and for which they are in no way responsible."

Ford asked if the foregoing was Darrow's state of mind last November.

Attorney Rogers protested it was unfair to select an isolated paragraph from a pamphlet, and Judge Hutton agreed that Darrow's state of mind could not be determined by lectures and addresses upon different subjects.

FEDERAL TREASURY DEFICIT IS REDUCED

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The deficit of the federal treasury the end of the first month of the new fiscal year was $743,185. Treasury officials joyfully compared this figure with $16,000,440 the deficit for July, 1911. There were two factors during the month favorable to the government. Custom receipts passed expectations, being nearly $5,000,000 more than in the corresponding month last year. Secondly, the seasonal delay in passing the deficiency and big supply bills decreased the expenses of the government nearly $5,000,000 as compared with July a year ago.

Total receipts for July last year were $52,985,962; disbursements $68,178,502. Custom receipts for the month just closed were $28,136,502 against $23,464,502 the previous year. The working balance in the treasury continues at a most satisfactory high figure, being $96,099,580 at the beginning of business today. The general fund contains $161,648,787 while the total cash in the treasury is $1,953,801,488.

The gold coin and bullion in the trust funds held for the redemption of outstanding gold certificates is $1,037,068,269. July disbursements for the Panama canal aggregating $4,157,514, were about a million dollars greater than usual.

The mint coined during July, $3,320,000 in gold. The total number of national banks has reached 7400 with $744,905,941 national bank notes in circulation.

BEAUMONT RAISES HOWL OVER DECISION GIVING WACO GAME

Umpire Leidy Calls Drive a Foul, Would Have Allowed Oilers to Tie Score---Waco Wins 1-0 Show-Lohman Pitches Good Game

(By Whoop-la.)

Just for the sake of argument, suppose it was a fair ball. There can be little question that Cap Leidy called it the way he saw it. He has worked five games here and yesterday was the only kick that has been registered against him. He has been fair and impartial at all times. But, as I said, suppose it was a fair ball and that it gave Waco the game. If so, it was the first time the Navigators have been benefited by the decision that decided a game, and, more than that, I have personal knowledge of at least six games that they have lost directly through bad decisions. Four of these were to the Houston team, as admitted by the sporting editor of the Houston Post. And if that hit in the ninth inning yesterday was a fair ball and if Waco won the game because Leidy called it a foul—granting all this the Navigators still have a good many coming from the umpires in the Texas League.

Questioned Raised in Ninth.

The hit in question came in the ninth when the score was 1 to 0 in Waco's favor. Two men were out and Dale was on third, where he had arrived by a questionable advance on a sacrifice fly to right. To a majority of those in the stand, it looked like Dale left second some seconds in advance of the catching of the fly. Leidy refused to allow the contention, however, and Holtz drove the ball up against the right field fence. The ball looked fair to me, as it did to a great many others—but still others, who are as good judges, say it was foul. Anyhow, after a strenuous howl by Beaumont, Holtz was sent back to the plate and Dale to third and a moment later the heavy hitter flew out to Crichtow, ending the game 1 to 0 for Waco.

Corbett, who was on the mound for Beaumont, put up a mighty classy exhibition of heaving. He had some faith in the Navigators' couldn't fathom and was receiving brilliant support in the pines. It looked mighty like a Beaumont game from the start, although Zeke Lohman was practically invisible himself.

Lohman's Hit Wins Game.

Waco's one run came in the fifth, when Wohlleben scratched safe on an infield hit. The decision on this play caused a howl from Wheeler, but it looked to me like Leidy was right, the glove popping at the same instant Wohlleben's foot hit the bag. Crichtow's sacrifice was a good one and Wohlleben went to third on Carson's infield out.

Then Lohman came up with Wohlleben on third and two out and hit one of the few clean drives of the game to left for the only count. Although Waco had several men on base after this, it was always after two men were out and none of the Navigators but Lohman could get to Corbett for a pinch hit.

One Escape Narrow.

As already stated, Zeke Lohman was going home himself. Probably his tightest escape, outside of the ninth, was in the fourth, when Casey opened up with a two-bagger and went to third on Wheeler's sacrifice fly up against the right field fence. Things looked a little blue with a man on third, one out and Holtz at the bat. But Holtz looked like anybody else to Zeke and he struck him out. Cook flew out to Crichtow and the chance was gone.

It was a mighty tight ball game from any angle, and most of the fans regretted the questioned decision in the final round.

Y., independent team. In so doing, although not in uniform, the commission holds that he violated its rulings that no national agreement player can play with or against outside clubs during their contract period. Marquard had telegraphed for permission to attend the game and considered the commission's consent sufficient to pitch one inning.

WRESTLING MATCH AT HIPPODROME TONIGHT

BILL HEADED BY SCOTCHMAN AND WALNUT SPRINGS MAN. BATTLE ROYAL PROMISED.

A match between Young Scotty McMurdo, a full-blooded Scotchman, and B. F. Cambron of Walnut Springs, will feature the list of events—mat and pugilistic—at the Hippodrome tonight. McMurdo weighs 142 pounds and Cambron claims 150 pounds.

McMurdo arrived in the city yesterday from Gainesville, where he has been making his headquarters for Texas. He boasts that he has never been thrown by a man of his own weight, and openly defies any man of 142-3 pounds in the world for a match. He has been wrestling for eight years, and spent three years at professional mat work in the old country before he came over.

McMurdo is also a fighter. He is booked for a bout in Muskogee August 7, and regrets that the Texas laws prohibit fighting down here.

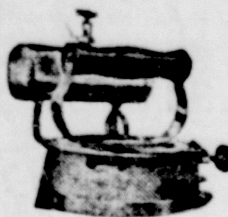

A battle royal will take place tonight at the Hippodrome. Preliminary wrestling matches are also booked.

REVISING RUIN MAP OF MODERN ROME

GOVERNMENT TAKES STEPS TO RECONSTRUCT REMAINS OF FORMER GLORIES.

Special to The Morning News.
Rome, Aug. 1.—It has always been in the minds of the powers that be that something more should be made of the series of ancient remains which have the Baths of Caracalla as their center, and at last this dream is in process of realization. Americans returning to Rome in the autumn will scarcely recognize that part of ancient Rome which extends from the Coliseum and the Circus Maximus to the famous Thermae, or Baths. The Thermae were the wonder of the world when built and the still so, and while not so large as those of Dioclitian, were more luxurious, accommodating 16,000 bathers contemporaneously.

The government, carrying out a scheme originally due to the versatile mind of the late historian and statesman, Ruggero Bonghi, and the excavated minister, Guido Bassoli, has entrusted Senator Professor Rodolfo Lanciani, the celebrated archaeologist,
so well known to American readers, to bring to life what is known as the "Archaeological Promenade," which already covers 180 acres of land. Part of this land required draining and was a fruitful source of malaria, so that, incidentally, Professor Lanciani has improved the health of that portion of the environs of the city. The whole forms a magnificent park, surrounding and setting forth the unique ruins from Roman times, the greatest care being taken to re-create what it must have been when the remains were glorious realities, so that besides the natural plants of the soil, there are only seven kinds of trees, the classic tree of Rome, i. e., olive, laurel, pine, cypress, ilex, oak and poplar, of which 10,500 have already been planted, nearly all doing well.

In the center, and overshadowing all, stand the Baths. One does not need to be a profound student of Roman times to understand what it means to discover under one building (the Thermae) one mile of underground passages, evidently for the use of slaves, as they led to the different bath-halls above and were the vehicle through which the soiled linen passed.

It has just been ascertained that one of the wonders of this pile was the largest flat roof in the world, supported by copper beams, no longer in existence, but there are the walls, and their formation shows that the room was flat without support from below.
Another of the sensational discoveries is a huge library, the only one known to have existed in Rome in connection with the Baths. The niches where the books stood are still to be seen, with the three steps which led up to the platform before them, and other signs which seem to point to the fact that there were reading desks attached to the walls. This Caracalla library is almost a reproduction of the Roman library at Pergamo, but is much larger.

The part of a gray porphyry column has also been unearthed, which is almost as valuable as precious stones, owing to its rarity. It is as hard as the red porphyry, but almost unknown.
There must have been a colonnade of them at the Baths, the two standing in St. Peter's, which are its pride, came from the Thermae. The quarries for this rare stone have not long been known and have now been identified as near the Mont Cenis tunnel, at Frejus, but there is no more porphyry there.

The question has often been asked,
What tremendous force could have so thoroughly demolished a building of the strength of these baths, while others not so strong, like the Pantheon, are almost perfect. Professor Lanciani would not hazard a decided opinion, but remarked that undoubtedly great havoc was worked in the Middle Ages when sculptures were collected and admired, palatial buildings were being built, and there was no reverence for the work of those who had gone before.

The sewers found at the Baths have an extent of nearly three miles, while there were 26 room used as reservoirs, disposed in two rows.

Professor Lanciani, to whose untiring energy and devotion all these discoveries are due, has asked the government for a further appropriation of $100,000, that he may be able to have casts made of all the statues known to have belonged to the Baths, and which will be raised in their original positions. This will not be difficult, as they are nearly all in the Museum of Naples.

Suffragette Says Men's Fashions Needs Reforming

Special to The Morning News.

New York, Aug. 1.—According to Mrs. Arthur F. Townsend, known as the best-dressed suffragette in New York, men, and not women, are slaves of fashion. If not, why, she asks, do the members of the stronger sex subject themselves to untold torture in this hot weather by wearing stiff, starched collars, why do they wear anything at all around the necks? And coals in hot weather! Mrs. Townsend is anxious to know if the women do anything more nonsensical in the line of dress than men who go around in the broiling sun encased in so-called "light coats." Mrs. Townsend also is of the opinion that the rapidly-growing women an independence of thought

STATE TAX BOARD DELAYS WORK HERE

Failure to Receive Intangible Valuation on Railroads Causes Trouble.

On account of its failure to send in the intangible values of the railroads in McLennan county, the state tax board is delaying the completion of this county's 1912 tax records. Assessor Reed's staff went to work Thursday putting the taxes on the valuation rolls. This work will require at least three weeks.

"I usually have the intangible values of the railroads not later than July 15," Assessor Reed said yesterday. "I don't know what the delay is about. The state tax board sent me the state tax rate several days ago. We need the intangible value figures in our work just now."

KATE FRIEND, Editor

TWO BRIDES IN PROSPECT

ENTERTAINED AT THE PARK

Out in the Herring Avenue neighborhood is a little club of men and women who enjoy the social game of forty-two. They call themselves by the mysterious emblem, "K. L. 42 U. D." This sounds very evasive, yet it seems that the members enjoy picnics at Cameron Park after the fashion of ordinary mortals. Within the club there are to be two August brides. These are Misses Sophie Fitzpatrick and Florence Swann. In compliment, the club took a moonlight outing at Cameron Park, and they made the occasion a shower for Misses Fitzpatrick and Swann. The affair was in charge of Mrs. Ed Williamson and Miss Birdie Duer Harn. Among the many attractive gifts which made the shower two were especially noticeable. They were inlaid fans from Miss Grace Haynes, who is now on a California tour. Other than the shower the evening was spent in the pleasures of the park.

WOMEN POLICE ARE TARGET

FOR THE FUNNY MAN

The man who tries to be facetious over the appointment of women police instead of being really facetious show their ignorance of what this means. San Antonio is asking for women police. This does not mean that the men are to be retired and the women to don their uniforms. By no means. It only means that, on the police force there be one or two women. The duty of these is to attend to the calls which concern women and children. There are many cases where women are necessary, many times when a woman can reach nearer the heart of the lost situation than a man can. Lost children, forsaken women, foundlings—these are countless instances in police experience where a woman's more sympathetic nature can better serve. It is woman's humanity for unfortunate women and children which makes this appeal. It is not the desire of any woman to take man's place.

WOMEN ARE TO BE INVITED

TO JOIN EXCURSIONS

It is noted that the Young Men's Business League proposes an excursion to Galveston with stops at Brenham and Houston with the day in Galveston. The report from the meeting announces that the women will be urged to join the excursion. This they should do, as may be possible. When the women give evidence of having caught the "boosters" spirit, it speaks more for public progress than any other one feature. Therefore, if the good husbands propose the trip, the women must by all means accept. This trip promises to be the most pretentious as well as enjoyable yet taken by the Young Men's Business League. But, women, before you go to learn something of what to say. If a Houstonian asks you how high the Amieable is, be ready with your correct answer. If the Galvestonian asks you how many acres in Cameron Park, do know what to tell him. Even if you have to stretch your imagination, give Waco a good population and then tell the man, like the little boy's peach, it is going to grow and grow. Learn all you can about the hot well, drive over and see what the Katy shops are doing. Be informed.

MRS. D. C. BOLINGER PRESIDENT

WOMAN'S COTTON PALACE

It is now officially determined that in beginning the work for the third annual Cotton Palace, that Mrs. DeWitt Clinton Bolinger will direct the women's department. The Cotton Palace directors tendered this position of trust and honor to Mrs. Bolinger as one of the representative women of the city as well as one identified with this city and its interests. She was a worker in the original Cotton Palace, a pioneer in library work, one of the first to promote civic ideas in this community. It is presumed that some weeks will be spent by Mrs. Bolinger in arranging her departments and securing a chairman for each. This before any further announcements concerning the women's part in the November exhibition will be made known. It is definite that Mesdames Allan Sanford and J. W. Bass will continue in charge of the art. Mrs. William Green will also continue her duties of the past year. From this on, the women will await every item of interest which concerns their Cotton Palace work.

In the meantime this editor appeals to the women to rally to Mrs. Bolinger and her assistants. It is not their Cotton Palace. They are merely willing to sacrifice time and strength for the public spirit of their sex. It is the duty of each individual to respond when called upon. If not actual work or loan to the departments, at least each woman can reserve the spirit of unfavorable criticism. The Waco women have not felt this individual responsibility as they should. They have rather left the burden to be carried by the few. Let this year find a change, and the willing spirit along with the helping hand.

THE MARY WEST CHAPTER

WITH MRS. EDITH LESSING

On Wednesday afternoon the Mary West chapter held its monthly mid-summer meeting with Mrs. Edith Lessing in her cool cottage out on Providence Heights. In addition to the accustomed historical-social session, there was a shower in honor of one of the charter members, and the one who has seen the greatest number of birthdays. Mrs. H. J. Ellis. More than fifty attended, unmistakably evident of a popular hostess as well as an interested chapter, since the day was the very hottest of an exceedingly hot month. All assembled at a given signal. Mrs. Lessing entered the parlor accompanied by Mrs. Ellis walking beneath the handsome chapter flag which her own hands had made. She was seated upon an improvised dais with a receptacle for the novelties at its foot. Flags draped the chair and Mrs. Lessing standing beside said the words appropriate to the occasion. It was a genuine surprise to Mrs. Ellis. The program for the afternoon introduced, Mrs. Susan Thornton Price opened this feature by the reading of a poem. A duet by little Willie May Kendall and her mother was next. Mrs. Araminta Branson read a paper, "The Significant Facts About the Rail Road of Jefferson Davis." Miss Emma Culbertson reviewed the signers of the Confederate constitution recalling many names prominent in the history of the Confederacy. All the chapter joined in "Silver Threads Among the Gold," as appropriate to the honor guest of the afternoon. This is one of the sad yet pleasing songs of the passing days. Here, the basket was presented to Mrs. Ellis. The packages were opened amid much interest and pleasing comment. Articles handsome, useful and unique, were in the collection. Feeling that the occasion reflected the love and esteem in which she was held by the chapter, Mrs. Ellis was overcome. Following the presentation, the little granddaughters of Mrs. Hooks sang a doll lullaby. Mrs. J. W. Downs made an able comparison between the United States and the Confederate constitutions. An enlivening instance was the singing by Mrs. E. A. McKenney of "Sparkin' on a Sunday Night," one of her girlhood songs. Mrs. Jennie Holmes rendered the old favorite, "Kathleen Mavourneen." Many visitors were present, both home women and visitors in Waco. Among the latter noticed were Mrs. S. C. Lattimore of Dublin, Mrs. W. C. Hall of Arkansas, Mrs. Mary West Beatty from San Antonio, Mrs. Thomas of Lampasas and Miss Duer of Houston. The New Orleans chapter wrote requesting the Mary West to vote for that city for the next general convention. The last number was a poem read by Mrs. T. Jeff Smith. There was then adjournment to the lawn for refreshments which Mrs. Lessing offered in two courses, and the general social hour. Altogether the midsummer session of the Mary West chapter was more than a success.

When the late Mrs. Mary Stark West organized the chapter which now honors her memory, Mrs. Ellis was one of the first to place her name on the roll. She has been a loyal member ever since, and it is this which made the chapter pay honor to her on this day. The relatives of Mrs. Ellis did distinguished service in the late war. Her personality is that of a cultured dame of the Old South, and her loyalty to the Mary West chapter makes her indeed one of its honored members.

Society Notes.

How many notes the ringing of the bell as the chief feature of the installation of the Japanese prince? This was in the belief that such expelled all the evil spirits. Look at any picture of the good old Saint Anthony, he who could not be tempted. There you will see a bell in his hand, because it kept the evil influences away from him. In England when a notable guest arrives, every bell in the city rings. This is the remains of the superstition. But it must be the bell of a church or other sacred edifice.

Mrs. J. S. McClintock is hoping to leave her new West Washington street residence in the anticipation of a prolonged absence from the city.

Friends here have heard of an accident to Mrs. H. R. Jones near Cameron. Mrs. Jones is a refugee from Mexico, visiting her Texas friends. She has paid visits here and will come again before her homegoing.

The latest news from Mrs. C. C. Alderton is to the effect that she with Miss Heppie is located suburban to Los Angeles and that Miss Alderton is improving nicely.

Mrs. J. R. Ferrell is now at home from the sanitarium. In the transit she met with quite an accident in the overturning of the ambulance. But she withstood the shock and is improving. The Hutchinson-Torian-Chambers camping party is at home since Wednesday.

Those in advance of women's work say that suffrage for females is more than probable for Crine.

The mothers must study more closely the Montessori method of teaching which is the talk of educational circles just now. This is an evolution from Italy, and is held to be the successor of the present kindergarten system. The Dallas women have already met to discuss it.

Mrs. E. A. McKenney's singing of "Sparkin' Sunday Night" made such a "hit" with the Mary West chapter that there were frequent requests to have a copy of these old-fashioned verses. They will be furnished this department by Mrs. McKenney, so that all may clip and preserve.

Had you noticed that Bryant was beginning to fall? Bryant was a little off when he called the autumn days "the saddest of the year." They may have been away up in dreary New England, but not down in Texas where the long summer season has made all long for the bracing breath of a real fall day.

The most novel gift which went into the shower for Mrs. Ellis was presented by Mrs. F. M. Maxwell. It was a tiny hand-stitched handkerchief with a wee pocket in the center to hold the coin for the street car, church collection, and such, when one does not carry a purse.

Tell it not in Gath but another surprise is gaining momentum.

Mrs. James D. Williamson is upon the eve of departure for Chicago, where she joins Mrs. Pio Crepi for August. Mr. Williamson goes up later.

One of the recent papers has the announcement of a Cemetery party—wonder where it took place and who attended? Was it mortals or spooks? After the renditions of the operas by the band concerts, why not encourage the children to learn these? They can be had in simple arrangements for the piano. It is a life-long pleasure to be familiar with opera airs.

Glorious rain! Surely none of us resorted to the refrain, "Rain, rain, go away, little Johnnie wants to play, in the meadow on the hay." We all took the rain this time with the play on the hay gone to the bow-wows until we cooled off.

A letter should be dated at the beginning on the right hand side while a note should be dated at the end on the left hand side. A letter is supposed to traverse distance, therefore the actual day need not be named. On the other hand the note is supposed to be delivered as soon as written and it should have the day of the week rather than that of the month.

Mrs. Robert Tolson is having three tables at bridge this morning. Her guests are principally those with whom she has been having summer games on Colonial Hill, together with her neighbor bridge enthusiasts.

Miss Frankie Thompson of North Sixteenth, was a hostess for the younger set during Wednesday evening.

Some of the midsummer brides have declined complimentary entertainment, not because these would not have been appreciated, but through the desire to relieve friends from the ordeal in such hot weather.

Having closed their Washington street home, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baker are at the hotel for a few days until more permanent plans mature.

If all present plans carry, society homes will be, many of them, transformed within the next year. If the house is freshened do make the resolution that the yard and the curbstone will conform. Do not be altogether selfish. Enjoy the home and let the community together with the visitors who take impressions, enjoy the general beauty and neat appearance of the entire city. It is not all the pretentious home which bears the deepest marks of the beautiful and the tasteful.

Drs. Hand Brown is securing talent which will make her balcony concert quite an enjoyable event. The date is in middle August.

Telephone Girl to Wed Prince

Special in The Morning News.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—"Dan" Murphy, erstwhile saloonkeeper, and father of Miss Mary Veronica Murphy, the young hotel switchboard operator, has brought his first down with a bang, at the same time declaring that no daughter of his shall ever marry an Italian, whether he be a prince or an organ-grinder. This ultimatum is the result of pretty Miss Murphy's announcement of her engagement to Prince Di Santa Marherita of Messina. The prince is the same ambitious young title-bearer whose proposal of marriage was flatly turned down by Miss Katherine Parker, the $30,000,000 heiress of Michigan City, Ind., about a year ago. Miss Murphy declares her first meeting with the prince occurred soon after and that their friendship soon developed into a real love affair. The prince is now at his home in Sicily, but Miss Murphy receives a flood of love letters from him every week. DOGS BATTLE WITH SNAKES IN THE RED SAND Doesn't Believe In "Hoopsnake"; Tells How To Cure Bites.

Special in The Morning News.

Watonga, Okla., Aug. 1.—The red hills of Blaine county have long been the lair of the biggest snakes in the Southwest. Heavy rains and hot weather this summer have aroused them to tropical activity. The most deadly to be found in this region is the diamond rattler, who is marked with black and yellow.

Dr. James Hamilton of Cedar Valley, tells of a terrific battle with a diamond rattler in his neighborhood. His two dogs were following a neighbor, William Frees, among the cliffs. The dogs started in pursuit of a rabbit.

In trying to reach the rabbit the dogs encountered a huge rattler. The dogs were bitten repeatedly, and died next day from the effects of the poison. Dr. Hamilton says that in measuring the wounds on the dogs inflicted by the snake's fangs, Frees found they were three inches apart.

Frees ran to the assistance of his dogs while the fight was under way, and hurled large stones upon the head and body of the reptile, but was unable to give it a death blow. The snake finally escaped among the rocks, bleeding where it had been bitten by the dogs. Frees said that the rattler's head was as big as that of a medium sized dog, the middle of its body as large as a man's thigh and the snake's length about fourteen feet.

An effort was made to capture this giant rattler for the collection of Prof. W. M. Winton of Edmond, Okla. Prof. Winton doubts many of the stories told about snakes. Especially does he discredit tales about hoopsnakes.

According to Prof. Winton, nobody should make the mistake of believing that a rattlesnake, harmless by the removal of its fangs. There are always other poison fangs in embryo that soon grow and replace the fangs that have been extracted. The rattlesnake's head is as big as that of a medium sized dog, and it is these that form the rattle. The number of rattles does not indicate a snake's age, but merely the number of times it has shed its skin.

The coral snake, a peculiar little reptile, is sometimes found in dead leaves and decaying wood. This is a black snake with gorgeous red and yellow bands round the body. It is genuinely poisonous.

The venom of the three principal poisonous snakes of the United States—the rattlesnake, copperhead and moccasin—acts on the circulatory system, affecting the coagulability of the blood, causing bloating and depressing the action of the heart. Whiskey and alcohol have the same effect upon the human system. Accordingly Prof. Winton declares that to administer whiskey for snake bite is about as reasonable as trying to cure a man of headache by striking him on the head with a sledge hammer.

For the cure of snake bite Prof. Winton recommends immediate squeezing or sucking of the blood and venom from the wound, which should be opened up with a sharp knife, to enable the poison to pass out freely, and oxygen to reach the poison, which oxygen decomposes. Control the circulation of the blood by tying a cord, preferably a suspender, tightly above the wound. In the meantime wash the wound with a solution of permanganate of potash, just strong enough for the chemical to give a faint color to the solution. Permanganate of potash is poisonous and should be handled with care.

PUBLISHERS' NOTICE.

The News has been fortunate in securing Fuller, Henriquez & Putnam of Chicago and New York as its foreign advertising representatives.

This firm is composed of advertising men who rank among the foremost in the country, who have the confidence of the largest and most general advertisers in the United States. This connection means that the interests of the News will be for and vigorously advanced. It means also that the advertisers of the country will have a medium through which the people of Waco and Central Texas may be reached by a morning newspaper.

The News takes pleasure in announcing this strong agency of New York and Chicago as its representatives in the foreign field.

LET'S GET DOWN TO BUSINESS.

A meeting to be held Aug. 8 has been called to consider whether there should be a local option election in this county, and The News is constrained to reprint an editorial published in this paper last Monday, as follows:

Suppose we stop agitation. Suppose we get down now to business, and look out for the commercial affairs of the city and the county. Last year the state was torn to shreds by a prohibition election. This year it has been torn again by all kinds of an election. The men who sell dry goods, groceries, furniture and other merchandise pay much of the taxes that support the municipal, county and state governments, and they are entitled to some relief from the continual agitation that is the result of political turmoil. Waco has a lot of work to do. The Katy railroad is to put in big terminals here, and there is work for the men in getting ready the homes and the locations for those who are to be of the working force in the shops. The Meridian is building to Waco, and we must make ready the town for the location of this new investor and the citizenship which comes with it.

The schools will soon open—in September—and we want to get ready for the hundreds of boys and girls who must be given a welcome and a start in their scholastic duties.

Elections are in the way of business. It doesn't matter what kind of an election it is, we don't want it, and the sooner the men who agitate such interruptions of business activities are silenced by the frown of business disapproval the better it will be for all concerned.

Let's get down to business. The Cotton Palace is next.

The above editorial was written when there was no suggestion of a local option election, and it had but one object in view—that of emphasizing the importance of looking out for business interests here. The Waco business men have offered $30,000 to get a big, fireproof hotel here; will an agitation such as is produced by an election help such a movement? We think not.

We expect to draw many people to Waco during the Cotton Palace. Can effective work be done on this line if we are torn to pieces by an election? We think not.

We do not believe the business men who are prohibitionists will endorse such a movement at this time.

The movement does not appear to be altogether a McLennan county affair. Information from Bell county is that a similar movement is starting there, and it is proposed to ask the commissioners' courts of the two counties to call the elections in the two counties for the same date.

Whether it could carry or whether it would not is not the question. We haven't got time, with the business interests ahead of us, to fool with a prohibition election or any other kind of an election. We haven't got time to waste on the election of a constable or a city judge. We are busy men here in Waco, and business ought to get our first attention.

KONE AND THE FARMERS.

In a controversy which has existed recently between Hon. Ed R. Kone, commissioner of agriculture, and the officers of the Texas Farmers' congress, Commissioner Kone has won and the farmers of the state who hereafter want to take advantage of the law which allows the railroads to issue free passes to delegates to the Texas Farmers' congress will be allowed to do so. Judge Kone is president of the association, which is composed of the men who form the various farmers' institutes about the state. This association meets at the A. & M. College of Texas at the same time the farmers' congress and the men who attend the railroads to issue passes to the men who attend the farmers' congress and the men who attend the association which the institute men control. Judge Kone asked for passes for delegates to his association, and the Texas Farmers' congress executive committee passed a resolution requesting the railroads not to issue the passes to delegates to the congress. The result was that attending the convention presided over by Judge Kone there were over 800 delegates, while the entire attendance did not reach 1200 for all the meetings. Judge Kone had real farmers in his meeting. They were men who are vitally interested in agriculture in the state. Many of those attending the congress were the officers of the various organizations, and men who do expert farming—that is, men who raise corn in order to sell seed corn; who raise cotton in order to sell seed cotton; who raise fruit trees in order to sell fruit trees; who raise pigs in order to sell brood sows, and so on through the list. Those attending Judge Kone's meeting were men who raise cotton in order to supply a market demand; who raise corn to sell to the man who wants corn for feed; who raise trees in order to sell the fruit; who raise pigs for the pig market. There is a difference between the ordinary farmer who makes his living selling to supply a demand and the man who makes his living selling seed. The "professional farmers" can afford to go to the congress whether they get a pass or not, as it is a part of their advertising expense to get their seeds before the people of the state. The pass question came up for discussion at the congress this week, and Judge Kone and his followers won the argument. The executive committee saw the wind blows, and in the following resolution backed up on their former action:

We, your committee, recommend that the congress give the railroad pass a trial under the delegate or representative system, and further recommend that the affiliated organizations of the Farmers' congress shall individually determine the basis of representation whereby they may be represented at the Farmers' congress by delegates, and that such delegates shall be privileged to attend the congress on passes, provided the railroads consent to honor requests for same.

Just how the "delegate" plan will work remains to be seen. Unless every farmer who wants to attend the congress is allowed a pass, there is discrimination. The passes can be so arranged that they will require validation at the college before they can be used for the return trip, and this will force every man who asks for the pass to attend the congress. The congress ought to be encouraged. Its speakers are the strongest men in the country along scientific lines, and a day at the meeting will benefit any real farmer in Texas. Judge Kone has the right idea, because he wants as many farmers as possible to visit the college. He has a right to urge them to come and to invite them, because he is one of the board of directors of the college, and since he has been commissioner of agriculture he has worked harder for the interests of the college and the farmers of the state than any man in Texas. Provide every means for cheapening the trip of the farmer to the congress and make the congress the biggest body of men in the south.

MOLLIE BAILEY'S SHOW.

From a hurried scanning of all the papers coming to our table, we have learned once more the whereabouts of Aunt Mollie Bailey. Her excellent show company is now playing an engagement at Memphis, Texas, in Hall county. This is a long way from Lufkin and will necessitate our waiting probably many weeks yet before her train comes rolling in, but inasmuch as all things come to him who waits, we shall abide our time in peace.—Lufkin News.

People in the big towns won't appreciate the interest that the Lufkin News is taking in the "Mollie Bailey Show," but there are thousands of folk about Texas who will. Mollie Bailey has never exhibited at Madison Square Garden, New York, nor does she pitch her tent on the vacant lots of such towns as Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth or Waco, but nevertheless she is well known in the small towns of this state as Barnum & Bailey, the Ringlings or others. No grand, gorgeous and gigantic pageant of perpetual pleasure precedes the afternoon attraction on the day that she visits a small town, but Mollie Bailey is a source of pleasure and delight to the little folk in the out-of-the-way places. Her show used to travel overland. The performing ponies of the one-ring circus would draw the wagons from town to town, and the "show people" would take their meals on the open prairie from the chuck wagon, while slowly moving from place to place. She may have a train by this time, we do not know, but we do know that many is the glad heart in the isolated town of 600 to 1200 population that has waited the coming of Mollie Bailey and has found pleasure in the performance of the one-ring circus. Mollie Bailey has not tried to take the business away from the three-ring aggregation, and they have not tried to draw her into the trust ownership which controls them all. She has had her field to herself, and let it be said to her credit that she has been a blessing to the kids of the little towns. She deserves credit, and she deserves success, and it is because she has been a delight and a joy where no other pleasure is provided, that the Lufkin News man thinks about her when her show is far away and is watching to learn when her exhibition will come his way.

Of course the Brazos Valley Telegraph and Telephone company is not going to move its headquarters to Fort Worth. What on earth would a Brazos valley concern do in a town at the headwaters of the Trinity?

The felicitations exchanged between Gov. Colquitt and Candidate Ramsey are entertaining, to say the least. Neither takes back water, and while there is a figurative handshake, there is also a body blow in the break-away.

Waco offers a bonus of $30,000 for a hotel with 190 rooms in it. That is at the rate of about $158 per room. Now for the man who will put in the foundation and cover the building with a roof.

Shout it far and wide. There is a purse of $30,000 in Waco for the person, firm or corporation prepared to build a fireproof hotel in this city.

Little Girl Goes Aerial Joy Riding

Special to The Morning News.

New York, Aug. 1.—Little ten-year-old Hallie Twombly, whose father, William Irving Twombly, has just received an aviator's license, made one of the most hair-raising flights that any aeroplane passenger at the Mincola, L. I. aviation field has ever had the distinction of enjoying. She flew with George W. Beatty in a Wright biplane. Beatty took his tiny, but fearless companion to a height of 500 feet, and then began a series of aerial evolutions that would have caused some seasoned aviators to beg him to descend. But not little Hallie. She fairly squealed with delight when her pilot brought the machine about at perilous angles, causing it to almost stand on end in the air. After fifteen minutes of this flying he brought the little lady back to the ground, and she hopped out calm and untroubled to tell her papa about the "fine breeze up there."

BEVERIDGE HEADS THE INDIANA PROGRESSIVES

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM AND DIRECT ELECTION OF SENATORS ADVOCATED.

By The Associated Press.

Indianapolis, Aug. 1.—Indiana progressives in convention today named a full state ticket, headed by former United States Senator A. J. Beveridge as candidate for governor and former Congressman Frederick Landis for lieutenant governor, elected six delegates at large to the national convention at Chicago and two electors at large, and adopted a platform advocating the initiative, referendum and recall, direct election of United States senators, woman suffrage and primary nomination of all elective officials. The bull moose was adopted as the official emblem of the party.

County option, upon which the resolutions committee threatened to split, was approved in the final draft of the platform as the most practicable means of control of the liquor traffic until the initiative and referendum should be made a part of the state's organic law.

References by Mr. Beveridge in his speech of acceptance to the national leadership of Theodore Roosevelt stirred the convention to wild enthusiasm. The 1400 delegates climbed on their chairs and shouted "Moose, Moose!"

Rate of $8 Made for Women and Escort—Much Enthusiasm Marks Arrangements.

John F. Wright, executive chairman of arrangement committee for the Young Men's Business League, today to Galveston yesterday, appointed the following executive committee: W. V. Crawford, John E. Fisher, J. Freidlander, H. Hagedorn, Jr., Frank J. Traub, E. F. Carroll, Roy E. Lane, W. B. Hoffmann, C. B. McCullum and F. E. Drake.

A meeting was called yesterday at 2:30 p. m. by the chairman, John F. Wright, and all were present. Enthusiasm prevailed throughout the meeting and definite plans were mapped out, the intention being to make it a business and trade trip as well as pleasure trip.

L. Freidlander, of the railroad and transportation committee, has the honor of itinerary up with the railroad company and just as soon as he receives it, it will be announced. The executive committee has authorized a rate of $4.50 for men and $3.50 for women, making it $8 for women and their escorts. This amount includes railroad fare both ways, hats, refreshments, banners, streamers and band.

It was decided to have six teams in the field selling tickets: Team No. 1—W. B. Hoffmann, Roy E. Lane, G. Stratton; Team No. 2—Will H. Burrows, Will Lacy and E. Gregory; Team No. 3—J. S. Freeman, Harry Bohner and Fiske Wright; Team No. 4—Dave Hawtuff, L. Freidlander and John Wright; Team No. 5—W. V. Crawford, F. E. Drake, T. A. Caulfield, C. B. McCullum; Team No. 6—Frank J. Traub, H. Hagedorn, E. F. Carroll, F. M. Longley.

The great goal to accrue to Waco from the trip and publicity is being talked on all hands and it begins to look to the committee in charge that Waco will not fail to take advantage of this stunt.

TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS CAUSE MANY ARRESTS

MAN WHO WOULD DO AS HE PLEASES, DOESN'T—OFFICER
TAYLOR GETS SIX.

In addition to arresting six, Officer Taylor warned a great many more yesterday against disobeying the traffic ordinance. One man was turning into Austin street the wrong way when the officer stopped him and made him make the turn correctly. "I'll do as I please," the man replied, and attempted to go on the way he had started, but the policeman arrested him.

The policeman stand at the principal corners on Franklin and Austin streets each afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock. They have instructions to force the public to obey the traffic ordinance. Policeman Taylor's showing was the best yet recorded.

He is making life miserable for violators of the city's traffic code. After he had arrested his sixth man, several business men walked up to him and complimented him on his work.

He testified against W. B. Wasson, H. Hollis, W. W. Earley, Charles Smith, O. Baker and George Carroll in police court Thursday. Three of them paid fines of $1 each. Two were dismissed, and the case against another one was postponed until Friday.

As officer was fired to make sure of the record. For instance, after he had warned one man against driving the wrong way this man stopped his horse and jeered at the officer and then proceeded to turn around in the middle of the block. The last act brought about his arrest.

MAN WITH QUEER TACTICS
FINALLY PLACED IN JAIL

Gives Name of Sam Rundal and Home as Gatesville—Many Persons Scared.

A man who has worried citizens and the police alike with his queer tactics for a week, was placed in the county jail Thursday. He was caught near the Hutchison home, located three miles out on the Dallas road. The man gave his name as Sam Rundal, home Gatesville, and he had $60 on his person.

The police had received more than a dozen complaints about the man. The night chief sent several expeditions after him, but the officers could never get a glance at him. He had a hobby of frequenting vacant houses, and neighborhoods in a half dozen localities were scared by him.

The police thought they had him in a trap on North Ninth street the other night, but he evaded them by jumping out of the second story window of a vacant house and running through burns, back yards and alleys and disappearing. Several men tried to catch him in a vacant house on South Fifth street, but he ran out of the back door and cleared two fences, said to be eight feet high, without climbing. He is an athlete, they say.

RAY C. POLLOCK LEAVES REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE

HUSTLING SECRETARY ACCEPTS POSITION WITH AMICABLE LIFE COMPANY.

Ray C. Pollock, secretary of the Waco Real Estate exchange since March, resigned yesterday at a meeting of the directors. He accepts a position with the Amicable Life Insurance company and will go on the road at an early date. Mr. Pollock's successor has not yet been selected, but it is understood that the directors have practically agreed upon a man.

RAY C. POLLOCK.

The announcement of Mr. Pollock's resignation was something of a surprise, his closest friends not knowing that he contemplated such a move.

Since his location in Waco he has been very active and has done much to boost the real estate business. As a hustler he has but few equals, and is a strong acquisition for the Amicable company. He has made many friends during his residence in Waco, and his decision to leave causes general regret. As a booster he is one of the first rank, and has identified himself with the progressive spirit of the city. He has been working on a number of projects for the benefit of the Real Estate exchange, and it is understood that these policies will be taken up by his successor. His resignation becomes effective at once.

M'LENNAN COUNTY GETS SOAKING RAIN THURSDAY

BIG HELP TO COTTON CROP AND WAS NEEDED—OTHER SEC-TIONS VISITED.

Rain Also Falls at Fort Worth, Dallas, Cleburne, Temple and San Antonio.

From the Red River to the Gulf and San Antonio and from Brownwood to the Sabine, Thursday's rain extended over thousands of square miles of Texas territory, bringing needed relief to the cotton crop. Half an inch of rain fell over McLennan county. The fall in other parts of the state was about the same, judging from the reports received by the telephone companies last night.

Clouds hovered over the greater part of this rain belt Thursday night, and additional precipitation is expected. The rain was particularly beneficial to North Texas crops, but the cotton in Central Texas could have easily stood up under two weeks more of dry weather.

The rain began coming down about 7 o'clock Thursday morning and continued the greater part of the morning. It fell slowly and was of a soaking variety. Practically every section of Texas reported heavy clouds during the day.

Telephone reports indicate hard rains at Fort Worth, Dallas, Cleburne, Temple, San Antonio, Houston and intermediate points. East Texas received its share of the rain also.

BELL COUNTY PROS TALKING ELECTION

PROPOSITION TO HOLD IT SAME DAY AS PROPOSED ONE
HERE CONSIDERED.

It appears from the information from Bell county that the movement for a local option election is a double-barreled affair that includes both Bell and McLennan counties.

There is an announcement that there is to be an election asked for in Bell county and the announcement is in the form of a preamble and calls for a county mass meeting to be held in Belton next Wednesday. It is signed by citizens of Temple, Belton, Rogers, Killen and other towns and communities, and the understood purpose is to petition the commissioners' court to order such an election, on a date corresponding to a similar election in McLennan county, to be petitioned for in mass meeting called at Waco.

The Temple Telegram states that such of the promoters of the movement in Bell county who have been interviewed state that they base their hopes of carrying the county on the vote cast in the state-wide election rather than on the results of the more recent contests, which did not present in the candidates any clear-cut test of relative strengths of pros and antis. They consider that while the lines were drawn to an extent, there were other considerations entering into the results. They express belief in a substantial growth in prohibition sentiment, they say, since the last expression on that subject.

The meeting which has been called in this city by Dr. A. J. Barton, acting for the anti-saloon league, is to be held next Thursday night.

In the election last Saturday Colquitt carried McLennan county by 49 votes and Ramsey carried Bell county by eleven votes.

AD MEN ARRANGE FOR ELBERT HUBBARD HERE

BILLS DUE FOR ENTERTAINING
ADVERTISERS DISCUSSED.
MEMBERS ELECTED.

At a meeting of the directors of the Waco Ad club held last night in the store of W. J. Mitchell, President Crawford was authorized to sign a contract with Aaron Laskin, manager of the Auditorium theater, for the use of that place on the night of Oct. 21, when Elbert Hubbard will deliver a lecture on "Modern Business" for the benefit of the local ad club. Mr. Hubbard is to appear in Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and San Antonio on this tour.

The various bills of the committee which had charge of the entertainment of the Associated Ad Clubs of America in this city on May 24 were turned over to the directors of the club, with a complete report of all money expended, and also of all money still due the entertainment fund, and the directors voted to take the matter of unpaid bills up and straighten them out as soon as possible. They are now working on a membership campaign, and it is believed that with the results from this, the Elbert Hubbard entertainment and the money subscribed but still due the entertainment fund, all the bills contracted can be paid. It has been expressed by many business men that no matter what the entertainment of the Associated Ad Clubs cost Waco, it was well worth the money from a standpoint of publicity for the city.

NET TIGHTENS

well-organized system of police graft. He announced tonight that this feature would be subordinated until he had convicted the murderers of Rosenthal and all involved in the plot to kill him.

Murder Cases First.
"Murder," said Mr. Whitman tonight, "is a graver crime than the levy of blackmail by the police. I decline to be diverted by any demand for a general investigation of the police department and police grafting until these murderers have been brought to justice."

The prosecutor took pains to add that the investigation into the graft system was in his view a secondary consideration only for the time being and said he had delegated Assistant District Attorney Moss to carry it on.

Net Closing Round Becker.

Following this policy of a two-fold prosecution, Mr. Whitman today bent his efforts to weaving close around Becker the web of evidence by which he hoped to convict him of being the man who instigated Rosenthal's murder. He called before the grand jury John W. Hart, Becker's attorney and through him established the fact, he said, that while Rose was a fugitive from justice, Becker sent Hart to him to get an affidavit clearing the police officer from the charge that he was a partner in Rosenthal's gambling establishment. This was on the night after the murder, and, according to Rose's story, Hart came o him at his hiding place on Riverside Drive, after he had telephoned Becker to know if he was going to be protected for his part in the murder plot. Rose admitted to the district attorney he was almost hysterical that day on account of his fear of arrest, and had telephoned Becker no less than four times.

The legal importance of Hart's visit, in the view of Mr. Whitman, is that Becker failed in his duty, as a police officer in not arresting Rose when it was published broadcast the next day that he was wanted.

In regard to the aldermanic investigation into the alleged police graft system, ordered Mayor Gaynor, District Attorney Whitman said tonight: "I am very busy looking into the actual facts of the murder. I will co-operate so far as I can, with any office investigation into police conditions but, of course, I cannot permit such a proceeding to interfere with the course of justice."

Charges Chef With Cruelty to Lobster; Spiked in the Back

By The Associated Press.

Philadelphia, Aug. 1.—John Hardecenau, chef in a local cafe, was arraigned today charged with cruelty to a lobster, but as Philadelphia lawyers could not decide whether a lobster can be cruelly treated, the case went over until Aug. 8, when experts will be called to enlighten the magistrate.

The charge was made by the Women's Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, because the chef placed a wooden spike in the first joint back of the claw of a lobster on exhibition in the window of the cafe. According to the lawyer engaged by the chef to defend him, the "spiking" of lobsters is a common practice to keep them from slipping. When the case was called today the magistrate at first decided that a lobster was not an animal and that there was no law against cruelty to lobsters. After a warm argument, the magistrate decided to ask experts to help him when the case is resumed.

PROHIBITION PLANK 'WRITTEN BY JOHNSON'

WANTS NEAR DAYLIGHT CLIM-
ING AND UNBROKEN PACK-AGE LAWS ADOPTED.

Special to The Morning News.
Tyler, Tex., July 31.—Hon. Johnson submits this as a plank in the state democratic platform.

"We demand the passage of a law requiring all places where intoxicating liquors are sold to be closed at between the hours of 9 o'clock in the evening and 6 o'clock in the morning and a law prohibiting the sale of liquor by the drink and only in packages the same not to be drunk on or at the premises where sold. With passage and enforcement of these laws we deprecate any further agitation of statewide prohibition for a reasonable number of years, giving to these measures a fair trial of their efficiency."

Mr. Johnson makes this argument: "Prohibitionists insist that the continued activity of the whisky traffic of our state, lining up for particular candidates, forces the issue of the political domination of the traffic in all our elections. The liquor traffic replies that the continued agitation of prohibition forces them in self-defense to the support of candidates who are friendly to their existence. This is a condition which bodes no good to the democracy and results in the suppression of other issues of great importance. The adoption of this proposed plank for closing saloons at night and prohibiting whisky from being sold by the drink on the bar, coupled with the declaration that with the passage and enforcement of these laws we will deprecate agitation of statewide prohibition for a reasonable number of years, our a great measure at least to remove condition from our democratic politics."
